Assistant Professor in child/adolescent clinical psychology

Department of Psychology
Faculty of Arts and Sciences

Job description

The Department of Psychology invites applications for a full-time faculty position (regular tenure-track position) at the rank of assistant professor in child/adolescent clinical psychology.

Founded in 1942, the Department of Psychology is the oldest French-speaking psychology department in North America. With its 60 career professors, it plays a leading role in the training of researchers and clinicians by presenting a complete and unique training offer in psychology, neuropsychology and cognitive and computational neuroscience. Professors in the Clinical psychology sector pursue research and intervention programs with individuals, dyads, groups and/or collectives made up of varied clientele and problems. They are supported by talented students and maintain close collaborations with national and international academic and practice communities. The research-intervention Ph.D. and Psy.D. in clinical psychology are accredited by the Canadian Psychological Association.

Responsibilities

The successful candidate will be called upon to teach mainly graduate classes and supervise graduate students, particularly in the professional doctoral program (Psy.D.) in clinical psychology, to supervise research leading to the writing of doctoral essays, master's dissertations, and theses, to pursue professional and scientific outreach and publication activities, and to contribute to the activities of the institution. Teaching could be done at the Montreal and Laval campuses.

Requirements

- » Hold a doctorate in clinical psychology, or the equivalent, with a specialization in childhood/adolescence;
- » Be a member of the Ordre des psychologues du Québec (or demonstration of possible satisfaction of the requirements must be provided in the application file);
- » The candidate should be at the beginning of their academic career as it is an assistant professor position;
- » Knowledge of developmental and psychopathological models of childhood and adolescence;
- » Clinical experience of at least two years after obtaining the doctorate with a clientele of children and adolescents with various problems;
- » Ability to teach cognitive-behavioral approach interventions to children and adolescents and to supervise clinical internships with this clientele in this approach;
- » Have demonstrated, through publications, a competence for academic and professional influence. This position involves regular high-level written production in various professional and scientific journals.
- » Demonstrated ability to deliver high quality university education;
- » Have sufficient knowledge of the French language or be determined to learn it once in post through the French language learning support program offered by UdeM, under the Université de Montréal's Language Policy.

Assets

- » Ability to teach, supervise or conduct research on:
 - issues related to adverse life events (abuse, neglect, etc.) and their consequences for children and adolescents;
 - or assessment and intervention with a clientele of vulnerable children and adolescents or under protection, or in the school environment;
 - or populations struggling with equity, diversity and inclusion issues;
- » Clinical supervision experience;
- » Experience in scientific supervision of graduate students.

How to submit your application

The application file should contain the following documents:

- » A cover letter describing your interests and career goals: to comply with Government of Canada requirements, please include in your cover letter one or more of the following statements: "I am a citizen/permanent resident of Canada" or "I am not a citizen/permanent resident";
- » Your curriculum vitae;
- » A teaching statement (no more than two pages);
- » A research statement (no more than three pages);
- » A diversity and inclusion statement (no more than two pages);
- » Copies of recent publications or research;
- » Three letters of recommendation, which must be sent directly by their author to the Chair of the Department.

Application file and letters of recommendation must be sent by email to the Chair of the Department of Psychology no later than December 1st, 2022:

Université de Montréal is strongly committed to fostering diversity and inclusion. Through its Equal Access Employment Program (EAEP), UdeM invites applications from women, Aboriginal people, visible and ethnic minorities, as well as persons with disabilities. We will –confidentially – adapt our recruitment mechanisms to the specific needs of people with disabilities who request it.

UdeM embraces a broad and inclusive definition of diversity that goes beyond applicable laws, and therefore encourages all qualified individuals to apply, regardless of their characteristics. However, in accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadians and permanent residents.

In order to measure the impact of its equity, diversity and inclusion actions, UdeM is collecting data on applicants identifying themselves with one of the groups targeted by the Equal Employment Opportunity Act, namely women, Aboriginal people, visible minorities, ethnic minorities and people with limitations. To this end, we thank you for completing this self-identification questionnaire. The information you provide through this form is strictly confidential and will be shared only with those responsible for the UdeM EAEP. If you wish, you may also indicate that you belong to one of the targeted groups in your cover letter, which will be reviewed by the selection committee and the assembly of peers.

Université de Montréal's application process allows all members of the Professor's Assembly to review the application files submitted. If you wish to keep your application confidential until the shortlist is established, please mention it in your application.
